We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Laurentian University of Sudbury which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at April 30, 2012, the consolidated statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Laurentian University of Sudbury as at April 30, 2012, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Year ended April 30, 2012

Laurentian University of Sudbury (the "University") is incorporated by special act under the laws of Ontario.

1. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Revenue recognition:

The University follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. The principles under this method are summarized as follows:

Unrestricted contributions and donations are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount can be reasonably estimated and allocation is reasonably assured. Contributions pertaining to future periods are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized.

Contributions externally restricted for purposes other than endowment are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized.

Contributions restricted for capital asset purchases are deferred and amortized to operations on the same basis as the related asset is amortized.

Endowment contributions consist of donations and capitalized investment income (loss) and are recognized on the accrual basis as direct changes in net assets.

Student fees and tuitions are recognized as revenue in the fiscal period when the respective courses and seminars are held.

(b) Investments:

Investments are largely invested in pooled funds, which are carried at market value.

Income/loss derived from endowment investments is allocated to the related scholarship and bursary accounts and the endowment fund balance. Investment income/loss on non-endowment investments is allocated to the respective non-endowment fund balance in proportion to their yearly weighted average.

(c) Capital assets:

Purchased assets are recorded at cost. Contributed assets are recorded at fair market value at the date of contribution. Capital assets are amortized on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Buildings40 yearsEquipment and furnishings7 yearsLand and site improvements15 years

Construction in progress is not amortized until the project is complete and the facilities are put in use.

(d) Employee future benefits obligation:

The University has a defined contribution pension plan in which the University contributes a set amount to the plan in respect of individual employees, with a guaranteed minimum defined benefit. All employees of the University and its federated institutions which participate in the plan, are eligible to join the plan upon entering the service of one of those employers. The benefits are based on years of service and final average salary.

Effective July 1, 2011, the University registered its Pension Plan in two parts. Part A continues to provide a defined contribution Pension Plan with a guaranteed minimum defined benefit. Part B is a defined benefit plan for future service after July 1, 2012 for certain employee groups of the University. On June 22, 2012, the Board of Governors approved a modification to the Pension Plan to be effective July 1, 2012, such that all employees are part of a defined benefit plan for future service.

The University sponsors a defined benefit health care plan for substantially all retirees and employees.

The University has approved a supplemental plan for employees to provide them with full benefits should the Canada Revenue Agency limitations not have been imposed.

The University accrues its obligations under the defined benefit plans as the employees render the services necessary to earn the pension and other retirement benefits. The actuarial determination of the accrued benefit obligations for pensions and other retirement benefit uses the projected benefit method prorated on service (which incorporates management's best estimate of future salary levels, other cost escalation, retirement ages of employees and other actuarial factors). The most recent actuarial valuation of the pension plans for funding purposes was as of July 1, 2011, and the next required valuation will be as of July 1, 2014.

Actuarial gains (losses) on plan assets arise from the difference between the actual return on plan assets for a period and the expected return on plan assets for that period. For the purpose of calculating the expected return on plan assets, those assets are valued at fair value. Actuarial gains (losses) on the accrued benefit obligation arise from differences between actual and expected experience and from changes in the actuarial assumptions used to determine the accrued benefit obligation. The excess of the net accumulated actuarial gains (losses) over 10% of the greater of the accrued defined benefit obligation and the fair value of related plan assets is amortized over the average remaining service period of active employees of 10.8 years.

(e) Internally restricted net assets:

The University restricts use of portions of its operating net assets for specific future uses. When incurred, the related expenses are charged to operations, and the balance of internally restricted assets is reduced accordingly with a transfer to unrestricted net assets.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(f) Related entities and basis of presentation:

MIRARCO

The consolidated financial statements are inclusive of the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of the Mining Innovation Rehabilitation and Applied Research Corporation, which is a wholly controlled entity.

Northern Ontario School of Medicine

The Northern Ontario School of Medicine (the "School") was created in order to provide medical education in Northern Ontario. Although the University, along with Lakehead University the only other voting members of the School, has significant relationships with the School, the University has no claim to the School's net assets and nor is the University liable or contingently liable for any of the School's obligations. Accordingly, the operations of the School are not included in these consolidated financial statements.

Sudbury Neutrino Observatory

The Sudbury Neutrino Observatory ("SNO") was created on December 2, 1997 as a joint venture of the University and three other Canadian Universities, to perform research in sub-atomic physics. The University's proportionate share of the entity's assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses to March 31, 2011 have been included in these consolidated financial statements. The 2012 financial statements are not available and accordingly, the balances and transactions will be accounted for prospectively.

SNOLAB

SNOLAB is a research project whose principal objective is the construction, operation and decommissioning of the SNOLAB International Facility for Underground Science. An agreement specifies that the project's liabilities and assets are to be divided among the SNOLAB member institutions, which are consistent with SNO above. The University's proportionate share of the entity's assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses to March 31, 2011 have been included in these consolidated financial statements. The 2012 financial statements are not available and accordingly, the balances and transactions will be accounted for prospectively.

Centre for Excellence in Mining and Innovation (CEMI)

The Centre for Excellence in Mining and Innovation (CEMI) was created on April 23, 2007 to advance, study, research and innovation. The University contributed $10 million received from the Provincial Government to create and fund CEMI on its inception.

The remaining balance of $1.5 million to be paid to CEMI is included in accounts payable. The University has no claim to CEMI's assets during its operating life nor is it liable or contingently liable for CEMI's obligations. Accordingly, the operations of CEMI are not included in these consolidated financial statements.

(g) Financial instruments:

The University accounts for its financial assets and liabilities in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

The financial instruments are classified into one of five categories: held-for-trading, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or other financial liabilities. All financial instruments, including derivatives, are measured in the statement of financial position at fair value except for loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments and other financial liabilities which are measured at amortized cost. Held-for-trading financial assets are measured at fair value and changes in fair value are recognized in the consolidated statement of operations.

The University continues to disclose under CICA Handbook Section 3861 – Financial Instruments.

(h) Interest rate swaps:

The University is party to interest rate swap agreements used to manage the exposure to market risks from changing interest rates. The University's policy is not to utilize derivative financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes.

The University has not hedged these agreements and the change in the net value of the swaps is reflected in the consolidated statement of operations.

(i) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the carrying value of capital assets; the valuation of pension assets and employee future benefit obligations and valuation allowances for accounts receivable. Actual results could differ from those estimates. These estimates are reviewed periodically, and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the year in which they become known.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(j) Impairment of long-lived assets:

Long-lived assets, including capital assets subject to amortization, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount to the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its estimated future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

(k) Future changes in accounting policies:

The Accounting Standards Board of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") issued Part III of the CICA Handbook that sets out the accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations that are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2012. The University will adopt the standards for their April 30, 2013 year end.

3. Employee future benefits:

The University provides for the reimbursement of a fixed annual amount of medical expenses to retired employees provided that certain specified conditions are met. An actuarial calculation of the future liabilities thereof has been made and forms the basis for the liability reported in these consolidated financial statements.

The University has a defined contribution pension plan with a guaranteed minimum defined benefit. The actuarial report, effective July 1, 2011, indicates that the guaranteed defined benefit portion of the pension plan has a going concern unfunded liability of approximately $31.0 million.

The reconciliation of the funded status of the defined benefit plan to the amounts recorded in the financial statements is as follows:

12. Commitments and contingencies:

- (a) The University has access to an unsecured line of credit in the amount of $2,000,000. The line of credit bears interest at Royal Bank prime less 0.50%. As at April 30, 2012, the University has not drawn on this line of credit.
- (b) The University participates in a reciprocal exchange of insurance risks in association with forty other Canadian universities. This self-insurance co-operative involves a contractual agreement to share the insurance property and liability risks of member universities.

The construction is expected to be completed in August 2012 and is financed by advances on a long-term debt commitment with repayment to start after completion of the project.
- (d) The Board of Governors of Laurentian University approved the Laurentian School of Architecture capital project in the amount of $42.6 million for which the funding has largely been secured.
- (e) The University is involved in certain legal matters and litigation, the outcomes of which are not presently determinable. #### 17. Restatement of prior year:

During the year ended April 30, 2012, the University became aware that prior to fiscal 2011 the Province of Ontario had changed its policy for funding the Collaborative Nursing Program and the revenue recognition policy should have been changed to record revenue in the year the student is educated, not in the period the funding is received. The impact of the correction in revenue recognized has been recorded retrospectively and the cumulative effect up to April 30, 2011 has been recorded as a $1,501,000 increase of accounts receivable and net assets, and a $388,000 increase of revenue-government grants and contracts and a $388,000 decrease in deficiency of revenue over expenses for the year ended April 30, 2011. The impact of the correction as at May 1, 2010 was a $1,113,000 increase in accounts receivable and net assets.
